

TOURISTS ARE INTERESTED IN SAVING 'FIELD

Tourists visiting the Gettysburg Battlefield are showing a continuing interest in preservation of the field, according to reports at Sunday afternoon's meeting of the directors of the Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association at the Hotel Gettysburg.

During July visitors to the Gettysburg National Museum put $1,446.74 in a "milk cart" there for contributions toward the purchase of land within the battlefield confines but still privately owned. The "milk cart" contains milk bottles representing the 50 states and the amount secured came from nickels, dimes and in some instances bills placed by tourists as they passed through the museum.

Income also included $11.18 from schools at Hedges, Pa., and Barberton, O., which brought to $4,400 the amount school children have donated so far toward the preservation of the field. Dr. Theodore Whitfield, chairman of the schools campaign, said the campaign will resume with the opening of schools in September.

DICKERS FOR 10 ACRES
Largest single contribution received during July was $200 from the Oak Grove Council 357 of Lehigh, Pa. The Michigan Department of the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War sent $95.

Treasurer Henry M. Scharf reported negotiations are being completed for the transfer of a deed for ten acres of land in the First Day's field to the Preservation Association as part of the Meals farm tract which the association is currently purchasing on the installment plan. Plans were discussed for possible preservation of the additional tract to the National Park Service November 19 in connection with the 99th anniversary of the delivery of the Gettysburg Address by Lincoln.

Vice President Robert Hoff-somer presided at the meeting at which plans for a motion picture telling the story of the effort to preserve the field were discussed.

ROUND TABLE AT BUCHANAN HOME SUNDAY

Gettysburg's Civil War Round Table Sunday visited President Buchanan's home, the relics of Thaddeus Stevens at the Lancaster Historical Society Museum and the site of the bridge burned in Wrightsville just before the Battle of Gettysburg.

At "Wheatland," the round table found that nearly all the furnishings of President Buchanan's home at Lancaster are the originals, including venetian blinds.

At the Lancaster County Historical Society Museum next door, the group saw relics of Thaddeus Stevens, who had become famous in Pennsylvania while an attorney at Gettysburg and then became nationally known after he moved to Lancaster. Among the articles were the boot for Stevens' crippled leg, his wig and his cane.

PLAN ANTIETAM TRIP

At Wrightsville, George Kauffman of York showed a number of pictures of the bridge burned there and detailed the various stories pertaining to the raid by the Confederate troops which ended when a Union militia outfit burned the bridge as the Confederates approached, thus preventing General Gordon from taking the bridges and clearing the way for the Confederates to move on Harrisburg.

Kauffman reported that the residents of the town drove their horses to hiding places in the hills when they learned that Confederates were moving from Gettysburg toward York in June, 1863, and removed the shoes from the horses in the belief that the Confederates would not take unshod animals.

After the Confederates had retreated from Gettysburg, the bridge was rebuilt, and then was washed away by a flood in 1896. After that a combined road and railroad bridge was built. Kauffman showed "pauper" tickets issued to those who wanted to cross the bridge and swore they were too poor to pay the three-cent toll.

Plans were made during the trip for a visit to Antietam September 16 to view the centennial re-enactment there.

Six Children Perish In Fire That Destroys Home

CLOVIS, Calif. (AP)—The six children of Ben and Betty Funk died in a fire that destroyed their new home in this Fresno suburb Sunday despite valiant rescue tries by the father and neighbors.

One teen-age neighbor smashed through a window into the blazing home and, with hands slashed by broken glass, handed out four of the children. But they apparently were dead at the time.

The father and others broke more windows in desperate rescue attempts but were turned back by intense heat.

Fire Chief W. E. Riley said afterward the window smashing may have worsened the situation. "It let in wind drafts," he said.

The dead children were: Dennis, 9; Howard, 8; Charlotte, 7; Shirley, 6; John, 3; and Deborah, 21 months. Deputy Coroner Walter Sechler said all had suffocated.

SHADES OF '63 ADD COLOR TO OPEN $2 WEEK

The horse and buggy and the Civil War soldier returned to Gettysburg this morning to help the town's travel council emphasize the effect of the tourist industry on the local economy.

For about 15 minutes the center of the town adopted an appearance it has not had for many years when a survey with the fringe on top driven by borough engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner, accompanied by about 20 mounted 4-H Club members and members of a local "living history" group garbed as Civil War soldiers, traveled to the town's two banks to pick up carpetbags full of $2 bills to be distributed to local business places. A number of local women and the county's apple blossom queen and her court were on hand in 1863 dress.

Marshall Tuckey, president of the Gettysburg Travel Council, explained that throughout this week all hotels, motels, restaurants, museums, etc. in the Gettysburg area will give change in $2 bills, employees will be paid in $2 bills and everyone who provides goods or services for tourists will receive their pay in $2 bills.

TO STRESS IMPACT

Travel council hopes passing of the money through the economy will not only give townspeople an idea of the impact of the tourist dollar (or in this case two dollars). The scheme is also designed to spur interest in the "Campaign Gettysburg" of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce. Currently the Jaycees have signed more than 100 local merchants and property owners in a program of remodeling the fronts of their buildings to give the town an 1863 appearance. The campaign is scheduled to end next month.

At the First National Bank on Lincoln Square Curvin Heiss and other members of the reactivated 67th Pennsylvania Regiment in authentic Civil War costume escorted a member of the bank's board, John D. Teeter, also in costume, from the bank to the buggy where he turned over a carpetbag of $2 bills to Winebrenner.

Escorted by the soldiers and the 4-H Club members Winebrenner then drove to the Gettysburg National Bank on York St. A staff member there, Vernon Clapper, also in costume, presented a carpetbag filled with $2 bills to Winebrenner.

With his escort, Winebrenner then drove to the travel council office where he turned the carpetbags filled with money over to travel council secretary Mrs. Pauline Adamick. She in turn has the task during the day of distributing the money to travel council members.

Drives Blazing Car To Engine House

Gettysburg firemen had no difficulty in reaching a fire Sunday morning at 12:40 o'clock. It was delivered to them at the engine house.

John Etchberger, Chambersburg, was driving along when he attempted to throw a cigarette out a window. Apparently it went into the back seat of the car, for Etchberger soon found smoke pouring from the rear seat of his auto.

He drove up in front of the fire house and some firemen there used a hose and fire extinguishers to extinguish the blaze quickly.

U.S. Launches Rocket On 109-Day, 180 Million Mile Flight To Early December Rendezvous With Venus; Find Error

By HOWARD BENEDICT
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A mariner 2 spacecraft rocketed into space today and scientists reported there is a possibility it will pass near the planet Venus as planned despite an early trajectory error.

If the early line is followed the Mariner will miss the planet by more than 600,000 miles, but an effort will be made by remote control steering to put it back on course.

The key to jockeying Mariner 2 back onto its proper path is a 50-pound thrust motor which is to be fired by ground signal eight days after launching when the spacecraft is more than a million miles away from earth.

FIRED AT 1:53 A.M.

By then scientists will have calculated the vehicle's path velocity precisely and will know just how long to fire the small motor to straighten out the course.

Mariner 2 blasted away from Cape Canaveral at 1:53 a.m. atop

ASSAULT CASE GOES ON TRIAL IN COURT HERE

Trial of Arvey Kreglo May, Fairfield R. 1, bartender, on a charge of aggravated assault and battery brought by a Fort Ritchie soldier, Sgt. Bennie Lee Barber, began this morning in county court.

The suit stems from an incident in the Silver Dollar tavern southwest of Fairfield on May 21 when, according to Barber's testimony, May struck him with a bung starter causing head injuries which Barber said required seven stitches to close.

Various witnesses this morning indicated in their testimony that there had been a discussion between Barber and May concerning payment of drinks for two young women at the bar. One of the young women testified that she had bought the drinks and paid for them. May apparently thought that Barber, who had been seated at a table away from the bar, had failed to pay for the girl's drinks, according to the testimony up to this noon.

May is scheduled to appear this afternoon to give his version of the incident.

Barber, who said he was a judo expert, testified he had been a friend of May and they had bowled together. He claimed May hit him with the bung starter but "did not hit as hard as he might have hit."

JUDGES HEAR SHEELY TALK

At the closing session Saturday of the Council of Juvenile Judges in Carlisle Judge W. C. Sheely of Adams-Fulton Counties, chairman of the Pennsylvania Juvenile Court Judges' Commission, discussed commission activities and plans.

Judge Sheely said the commission has been cooperating with the Department of Public Welfare on a grant program to increase the effectiveness of juvenile probation services throughout the state. During 1962 some $232,000 was distributed to 39 county juvenile probation officers. As a result of this grant, 43 new juvenile probation officer positions were created and 28 juvenile courts expanded their probation officer training programs. There will be $300,000 available to further this program in 1963, he said.

During this year the commission, cooperating with the Department of Public Welfare and various other state agencies and associations, was instrumental in providing a week of training for 85 juvenile probation officers. This program, also, will be pursued in 1963.

These officers were elected for the next year: Swirls L. Himes, Huntingdon County, chairman; Herbert A. Mook, Crawford County, first vice chairman; Paul S. Lehman, Mifflin County, second vice chairman; Herman M. Rodgers, Mercer County, secretary-treasurer; executive committee, Dale F. Shughart, Cumberland County; Fred W. Davis, Pike County; Thomas F. Lansberry, Somerset County; William G. Barthold, Northampton County; Alton A. McDonald, Cambria County; James F. Henninger, Lehigh County; Robert E. McCreary, Beaver County; Edwin M. Clark, Indiana County; Charles G. Webb, Tioga County, and Chauncey M. Depuy, Franklin County.

U.S. Launches

Officials said both stages of the Atlas-Agena rocket appeared to have fired properly.

PICK UP SIGNALS

An hour after the 10-story tall rocket and spacecraft lifted off, the tracking station at Woomera, Australia, picked up its signals and confirmed that its 16½-foot span solar panels had unfolded properly. The panels collect the sun's rays and convert them to energy to run the spacecraft's batteries.

If Mariner 2 works as planned it will race within 10,000 miles of Venus next Dec. 14 and its instruments will take the first close-up look at secrets which the bright planet conceals beneath a perpetual blanket of surrounding clouds.

HELP SOLVE MYSTERY

It could help solve one of the most puzzling mysteries of the solar system: Can life as we know it exist on Venus? Most scientists doubt that life exists there because of steaming temperatures near the surface.

Even though the early stages of flight were successful, the gold-and-silver-coated spacecraft has many hurdles to clear—such as temperature variations and radiation effects—as it zips along through the dangerous unknowns of space.

Another big question mark was how well it would send back information across great distances. America's Pioneer V sun satellite now holds the record, having beamed back signals from 22.5 million miles in space.

NEXT TRY IN 1964

If Mariner 2 does not succeed, the United States must wait until 1964 before Venus again is in a favorable position for a launching.

The first American Venus shot, Mariner 1, failed last July 22 when a faulty guidance equation caused the Atlas Agena B booster to waver from its course and it was destroyed by the range safety officer about five minutes after launching. The Soviet Union shot a probe within 62,000 miles of Venus last year but received no information because of a dead radio.

"I am in admiration of all that has been done in the rehabilitation and embellishment of the church and school, the facilities that you have made for yourselves in the church, school and rectory, the modernization as we might say of old St. Aloysius, truly I am. And may I say that I am particularly happy that you have left so much of the old church to remind you all of other days. This historic and handsome altar rail, the windows in front of the church . . . even the old pews that you kept and the sanctuary lamp, so many memories that the church has renewed for all these years. I think it is very thoughtful and delicate of you to keep all those reminders which blend with the new beauty that you have given to the old church."

PRaises FR. METZ

"Ever since the day he was entrusted with wonderful old St. Aloysius Church, its spiritual and its temporal needs, Father Metz's heart has been here and you know it. I told you once the quality of priest you were receiving and now you don't need to be told. But this achievement which we are celebrating today surely is outstanding in his career and while I am giving compliments to him, I pass on the compliments to you, his people, my people, and we all do agree that you are the ones who have done it."

Rededication Ceremony Is Held At St. Aloysius

LITTLESTOWN—His excellency, Most Rev. George L. Leech, bishop of Harrisburg, celebrated a Pontifical Low Mass as part of the rededication ceremonies in St. Aloysius Catholic Church Sunday afternoon.

The ceremonies opened with a procession of the clergy numbering 16 monsignors, 44 priests, Bishop Lawrence F. Schott and Bishop Leech, with 12 Fourth Degree members of the Knights of Columbus Council 871, Hanover, directed by Grand Knight Henry Snyder, serving as a guard of honor. After vesting in the sanctuary of the church, Bishop Leech, accompanied by his chaplains, Rev. Fr. Cletus Wagman, Meachamsville, and Rev. Fr. John J. McNulty, Fairfield; the master of ceremonies, Rev. Fr. Leonard Casey and the assistant master of ceremonies, Rev. Fr. Thomas McLernon, Harrisburg, together with the local ushers, went to the school to bless the structure. Then the group returned to the church and the bishop blessed the church proper. The Mass followed. In addition to invited guests and parishioners more than 60 nuns were present for the Mass.

Chaplains to Bishop Schott were the Rev. Louis Forgeng, Bonneauville, and the Rev. Leo Beierschmitt, Anville. Leading the procession as cross bearer was Robert Miller with Gary Lang and Clyde Rohrbaugh acolytes; Robert Alloff and Harold Storm were censer bearer and incense carrier; Ronald Redding and Gerald Alloff were miter and crosier bearers for the bishop. Eagle Scouts Thomas Gingrow and Laurence Alloff assisted the pastor. Ushers for the service were members of the Holy Name Society: Marvin Miller president, Thomas G. French, John R. Rudisill, Stewart N. Long, Robert Oster, David French, Harold Trone, Robert Murren, Joseph Shander, Z. W. Sanders and William May.

The Mass concluded with the congregational singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and "Holy God We Praise Thy Name." Miss Anna C. Weaver presided at the console, a new Kimball electronic organ. All in attendance received a copy of the dedication booklet containing pictures of the parish buildings, of the Holy Father, Bishop Leech, Bishop Schott and the pastor, the Sisters, and the 1962 first Communion class, as well as descriptions of the new appointments and a history of the parish, including the names of all the priests who served it since 1781.

Following the services Sunday afternoon, the clergy were served dinner in the parish hall; the Sisters a buffet luncheon in the recreation room, all by the women of the church. Invited guests were served dinner at William's Hotel, across the street from the church.

On Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, there was solemn benediction with the most blessed sacrament, with the pastor as celebrant, the Rev. Fr. Stephen A. Hriebrix, Steelton, as deacon and the Rev. Fr. Richard Hartnett, McSherrystown, as subdeacon. Prior to benediction, Father Metz spoke to the parishioners assembled, extending his personal thanks to everyone who had assisted at the day's festivities.

FATHER METZ'S THANKS

He said, "We still have to measure up spiritually to what we have accomplished physically." He expressed appreciation to all those who managed to fit the celebration into their busy Sunday schedule. "People in this parish can trace their ancestors back to its very beginning, and some back as far as the gentlemen at Plymouth," he said, "and we must make our lives coincide with what has gone before us in the true Christian tradition of our parish. May God bless all of us and may God grant us the strength to carry on in this tradition."

In his sermon at the rededication ceremonies, Rev. Fr. Woodrow W. Jones, Harrisburg, urged the people to also rededicate themselves to the service of God. "Let us resolve," he said, "to grow and grow in sanctifying grace that we ourselves may be temples of

RUSSIA AGAIN REJECTS BAN ON BOMB TESTS

GENEVA (AP)—Britain and the United States today proposed a treaty for an unpoliced ban on nuclear tests in the atmosphere under water and in outer space—and the Soviet Union immediately turned a cold shoulder on the idea.

The Western powers proposed to continue working for a treaty to ban tests in all environments—but with provisions for international on-site inspection of suspicious tremors which might indicate underground tests.

Less than two hours after the West offered the partial ban at the 17-nation disarmament conference, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov turned thumbs down.

Kuznetsov told the meeting he would study the Western draft treaty for a partial ban excluding underground tests. But his subsequent remarks left no doubt his government would reject it.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean presented the Western proposal at the 7th session of the 17-nation disarmament conference. Dean also put before the conference a second British-American draft treaty to ban tests in all environments for all time.

Dean said this draft includes ideas expressed by the neutralist delegations at the Geneva conference and takes account of improved Western methods of detecting underground explosions. But he stressed it also provides for international inspection on the site of a suspicious earth tremor, a provision that assured in advance its rejection by the Russians.

He said the United States and Britain, while still preferring a comprehensive treaty including a ban on underground nuclear explosions, were offering the partial ban in the belief that it would represent "a substantial positive gain for society."

Kuznetsov was quoted by Western conference sources as saying the Western proposal for a partial ban was "a stimulus to nuclear war."

The Soviet delegate insisted that any treaty banning atomic explosions must include underground nuclear tests.

At the same time, conference sources said Kuznetsov rejected out of hand the second proposal, calling for a ban on all tests in all environments for all time, but with provisions for compulsory international inspection on the site of a suspicious tremor which could be an earthquake or a clandestine underground explosion.

No One Hurt In $1,400 Accident

Two cars were damaged early Saturday in a collision on the Mt. Holly Springs pike a mile south of Carlisle, state police reported.

The drivers were identified by police as Paul W. Slaybaugh, 27, Benderville, and Donald B. Beam, 28, Gardners R. 2.

Police said Slaybaugh had overtaken the Beam car and in passing he swerved to the right to avoid a head-on collision with an oncoming vehicle. Slaybaugh's car struck the left front of the Beam car forcing it off the road. Beam's car came to a stop against a guard rail, police said. No one was injured.

Police estimated the damage to Beam's car at $1,200 and Slaybaugh's $200.

A field fire on the property of Charles Robertson was extinguished by volunteer members of the Alpha Fire Co. No. 1, using three booster lines. The fire began from burning brush. There was no damage.

HEAVY WEEK FOR CONGRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Heading into what they hope will be the final month of the session, the Senate and House buckle down today to a full week of work.

Twenty-two bills, several of them highly controversial, were crowded onto today's House calendar, to be followed Tuesday by consideration of a $900-million public works bill.

The Senate's week probably will be taken up with an unexpected fight over a House-passed tax revision bill stripped of many administration proposals by the Senate Finance Committee.

Top attraction on the House docket is a proposal to eliminate payment of poll taxes as a qualification for voting in elections involving federal office. It is one of 13 bills slated to be called up today under a procedure requiring a two-thirds vote for passage.

Inasmuch as the proposal would submit the poll tax issue to the states as a constitutional amendment, it would need a two-thirds vote for passage at any time. To become effective it would have to be ratified by three-fourths of the states.

MOSCOW (AP) — Acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant talked today with President Leonid Brezhnev and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. He is slated to fly south Tuesday for a talk with Premier Khrushchev, who is vacationing.

VAN ZANDT HAS GUARD RECORD ON STATE UNIT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. James E. Van Zandt, R-Pa., says the Defense Department's decision to deactivate Pennsylvania's 79th Infantry Division "appears to have been arbitrary and capricious."

Van Zandt, Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate from Pennsylvania, said Sunday the Pennsylvania division, which also includes some Maryland and Delaware units, has a higher performance rating than the 83rd Division which will continue to remain active.

He said the two Army commands "best qualified to render such a decision," the Continental Army Command and the Second U.S. Army were not consulted. Records show, said Van Zandt, that of the 88 units comprising each division, 59 units of the 79th were better than like units of the 83rd. In only 29 units did the 83rd have an edge, he said.

"Also three units of the 79th have been rated superior by the secretary of the Army while no units of the 83rd won this distinction," the congressman said.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

Prairie Chickens: The Dubuque Times says that never since Iowa has been settled by the white man have prairie chickens been as numerous as at the present season. In Buchanan and Blackhawk counties they can be killed with stones and clubs, and hunting them with guns is next to no sport at all. So plenty are they that the farmers importune hunters to try their luck on their grounds and in some instances they have manifested a willingness to pay for killing them.

Non-combative Loyalty: The "Dunkards" an unobtrusive but eminently worthy and responsible religious body in this State, at their recent annual assembly at Morrison's Grove, referred the subject of conscription to a committee, which reported in favor of sustaining the Government and obeying the laws notwithstanding the non-resistant principles of the denomination. A resolution was recommended and adopted that every member drafted shall pay his commutation and if he is not able the expense shall be assessed on the members of the congregation.

Going Back To Wood Again: The price of coal has gone up so high that the New York railroads have commenced using wood again for the running of their locomotives, they finding it cheaper.

Scarcity Of Ice: The scarcity of ice is general throughout the Atlantic cities. In Baltimore the price has been doubled and it is difficult for private families to get an adequate supply. Little or no ice was put away at any point south of New York during the winter of 1962-63, and as a consequence a heavy draft is made upon the Northern market from Pennsylvania; and while Baltimore, Washington and other places are receiving their supplies from Boston and Maine, in Philadelphia ice is selling for 2 cents a pound; in Springfield, Mass., it brings 25 cents per cwt; in Hartford, Conn., the present price is 1 cent a pound, or 84 cents a week for 12 pounds a day.

Stray Cattle: Came to the residence of the subscriber in Freedom Township on the 5th of July last a WHITE MOOLEY COW, with red spots, giving milk; and a white heifer, supposed about 2 1/2 years old. The owner or owners are desired to prove property, pay charges, and take them away.

JOSEPH KITTINGER

On Friday last several wounded Rebel officers were removed from the Seminary Hospital in this place, by railroad, to Baltimore. We do not know where their future destination is. Amongst them were Maj. Gen. Trimble, Brig. Gen. Kemper, Capt. Leaphart and Lieuts. Shurter and Grogan. We understand that Gen. Kemper was very indignant at his removal from his comfortable quarters at the Seminary, where he had been so well attended to by female sympathizers, and growled at everything and everybody on his way to Baltimore. He certainly fared much better here than our Union prisoners do at Richmond, and no wonder he was so indignant.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
A Fact Not Generally Known: The origin of the portrait for the Goddess of Liberty upon our coins is of great interest. Mr. Spencer, the inventor of Spencer's Lathe, used by the American Bank Note Company, was the artist who cut the first die for our American coin. He cut an exact medallion of Mrs. Washington, the wife of General Washington, and the first few coins were struck with her portrait. When the General saw them he was displeased and requested the figure to be removed. Mr. Spencer altered the features a little, and putting a cap upon its head, called it the Goddess of Liberty. If future artists bear this in mind, they will always take Mrs. Washington's portrait for

Today's Talk

MISUNDERSTANDING

What a happy world this would be if people would just understand! "Cold" wars would end. Nations would grow and thrive as they never have. Homes would be happier. Business would run smoothly. Work would take on new glamour.

There would be a finer strain to all friendship, and love would glow like new polished gold.

A 16-year-old boy recently told me of his unhappy life because his father seemed unable to understand him. I felt for that boy but could offer no solution, not knowing the son or the father. But I felt sure that misunderstanding was back of it all.

All disputes are misunderstanding. Most of the mistakes we make result from misunderstanding.

I recall reading an article in which a former president of a large radio corporation said this: "We must not forget that the nation's confusion of tongues has in itself been one of the most fruitful sources of international division and misunderstanding. People mistrust what they do not understand; let them develop a common medium of communication and still another cause of mistrust could fall by the wayside of human progress."

When you talk with an unhappy person, almost the first thing you listen to is that he, or she, is misunderstood. In most cases it is probably true. On the other hand, we must strive to understand ourselves so far as possible. Selfishness is usually behind all misunderstanding, so if we endeavor to be thoughtful of others and seek to get their viewpoint, misunderstanding is apt to wilt away in a most mysterious manner.

When confusion arises and the dark clouds appear, what a difference it would make if we would make if we would simply resolve within ourselves to — try to understand!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "You Are Somebody"

HIS WEAKNESS

He danced with remarkable grace
In the latest of fashions he dressed.
He was always the life of the place.
On his lips there was ever a jest.
He often played golf with the pro.
And he set the girls' pulses
a throbbing.
He was handsome to look at but, oh,
He couldn't hang on to a job.

He could sing any song that was played.
As a wisecracker he was a scream.
A hit at all parties he made,
He had ginger and pepper and steam.
There was little he seemed not to know.
He was all of the corn on the cob.
The girls raved about him, but, oh,
He couldn't hang on to a job.

At tennis he did rather well,
He could swim under water
with ease.
The truth of this marvel to tell,
He had all of the graces which please.
He was great as a young maiden's beau.
But later his wife used to sob
She'd a marvelous husband, but,
oh,
He couldn't hang on to a job.

EDIE ADAMS DOING WELL ON HER OWN

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

A few months ago, when Edie Adams was suddenly a widow after Ernie Kovacs' death in an automobile crash, she faced the future with some degree of uncertainty. Currently she has so many things on the fire that she keeps a large black notebook containing all the activity which is filling her life.

At the moment she is winding up the movie, "It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World," in which she plays a full-sized role.

"Before that I'd done what were really bit parts," she said, as she submitted to a bit of fussing over her blonde wig by the studio hair stylist. "But although this part is bigger, they still have me playing a dizzy blonde—I'm always Daisy Mae."

WELL ORGANIZED
Producers may have Edie eternally typed by the part she played several seasons back in the musical comedy "L'il Abner," but she is a level-headed, well-organized young woman.

"Things are working out pretty well," she admitted. "I've just finished a new record album. When this movie is finished, I start on the first of my eight ABC specials. If I find the time, I will play Las Vegas for two weeks in October, and if I can't, I'll do four weeks in January. And I've got commitments for supper clubs in New York and San Francisco—when you pull together an act, you want to play it in various places to make money with it."

"I have commitments to make commercials—five a year for my sponsor. And we've got some plans for a couple of television specials—book-shows, including 'Oh, Captain!'"

All of which is pretty good for a young woman whose financial plight was the serious concern of friends only a short time back.

NEW YORK (AP)—Edward G. Wilmer, 75, former president of Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., and a former government official, died Friday in Memorial Hospital after a long illness. Wilmer, who also was former president of the old Dodge Brothers auto manufacturing firm, served as a special assessor to Undersecretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal during World War II.

Byrd Wants U.S. To Cut Expenditures

BERRYVILLE, Va. (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said Saturday if President Kennedy's proposals to cut taxes aren't accompanied by "at least an effort" to reduce spending, "it will be the most irresponsible recommendation of this kind and magnitude" in his recollection.

"To date, I find little assurance that the administration plans any expenditure reduction—with or without tax cuts."

Byrd's speech was prepared for the 40th annual orchard picnic he holds among the apple trees on his farm in this rolling northern Virginia county.

The gathering draws friends and political associates in and out of Virginia.

KRALICK NEAR PERFECT GAME

By LEW FERGUSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP)

—You'd think a guy pitching a major league no-hitter would have all his pitches as well as a good amount of cunning and wile working for him.

But not Minnesota's Jack Kralick, the 26-year-old beanpole southpaw who edged the Kansas City Athletics and hardluck pitcher Bill Fischer 1-0 Sunday, barely missing a perfect game when he walked the second man up in the ninth inning.

Kralick found out in the first inning that his curve ball wouldn't break right. "I couldn't grip the ball right to throw my curve, so I told (catcher Earl) Battey about it."

Battey said he and Kralick "just worked around" having to use the curve after that. Kralick relied on a hopping fast ball and a good slider "with just a couple of changeups tossed in" in fashioning the season's fifth no-hitter in the majors. He struck out three.

Bandit Clash In Colombia Kills 10

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—The army said Sunday 10 bandits were killed and three wounded in a clash at Geneva, about 70 miles north of Cali.

Col. Bernardo Leguizamo, commander of the army battalion in the area, said 31 of the bandits were captured. He said one soldier was wounded.

An outbreak of terrorist activity that has taken more than 800 lives prompted the government to step up an army campaign against the bandits.

NEWCOMER TO OFFER TESTS IN GOLF PLAY

By DON WEISS

Associated Press Sports Writer

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—A pert, 19-year-old blonde from Wisconsin who has been playing golf since she was six may have aged enough to fire a major challenge at the likes of Anne Quast Decker, JoAnn Gunderson and Barbara McIntire during the Women's National Amateur Championship that opens at the Country Club of Rochester today.

"Gosh," gushed little Carol Sorenson after winding up preparations for her first round match with Janet MacLeod of Buffalo, "you know I've never gotten past the second round of the National in three other tries and these are the best amateur players you can find."

"But," she considered, "this is a nice course and all in all I'm pleased about the way I'm playing—so far."

EARLY START HELP

The early start her dad, a former high school coach at Jamestown, Wis., gave Carol in golf has been paying big dividends in the last couple of years.

In 1960, aged 17, she won the national junior girls championship. This year, she has won the women's national collegiate and the Western amateur title, the former just as she was completing her freshman year at Arizona State University at Tempe.

Going to school in Arizona, she says, has brought growth in her golf game because she can play 12 months a year. Right now, she is tuned to an edge that has impressed everybody during the weekend practice sessions over the 6,161-yard par 36-36-72 course.

MATCH EXPERIENCE

If there is one thing Carol might lack it is experience in major events, and that is where Mrs. Decker, the defending champion from Marysville, Wash., two-time winner Miss Gunderson of Providence, R.I., and Kirkland, Wash., and Miss McIntire, the 1959 U.S. and British women's amateur champion, stand out. Each is only in her mid-twenties.

Although the 1961 queen considers herself in "semiretirement, sort of," since her progression from Anne Quast to Mrs. Decker, she did have a tighter grip on the United States' 8-1 Curtis Cup rout of Britain at Colorado Springs earlier this month.

"It's the only thing I've played in all year," The genial Mrs. Decker said, "and it sure helped. I was surprised, frankly, that I played as well as I did, but I am not going to say anything about how I think I'll do here. Ask me again after the first round."

Rodriguez Anxious To Meet Griffith

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Luis Rodriguez is more anxious than ever to get a title fight with welterweight champion Emile Griffith but he doesn't intend to let ring rust gather around his working tools while he waits.

The No. 1 contender from Cuba and Miami, Fla., guns for his eighth straight victory Wednesday night when he meets Chris Burford of Memphis at Miami Beach in a 10-rounder.

Luis has lost only twice in a pro career of 48 fights. The first was to Griffith before the latter won the 147-pound division crown and the other was a disputed decision to Texan Curtis Cokes. He avenged the loss to Cokes and hopes for the chance to get square with Griffith.

Rodriguez' prospects of a title fight brightened when Paul Pender, the co-holder of the middleweight title, agreed to defend against Jose Torres instead of Griffith.

Exiled Cuban Students Blamed For Shelling Of Havana; Check Violation

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government pressed an investigation today to determine if the shelling of Havana violated the U.S. Neutrality Act.

The State Department already has pinned on a Miami-based exiled Cuban students group the responsibility for Friday night's attack, but has not said whether the raiders sailed from this country.

The neutrality law prohibits launching from U.S. soil armed attacks on countries not at war with the United States. The Justice Department is trying to find out if prosecutions under this law are called for.

DENY VIOLATION

In a Miami news conference Sunday, Juan Manuel Salvat, leader of the students group, declined to say where the ships used in the off-shore shelling of Miramar suburb were based. But, he declared, "I don't feel we have violated any law of our country."

In holding the Students Revolutionary Directorate responsible for the sortie the State Department warned Saturday that "any repetition of such action by any group could involve the provisions of the Neutrality Act." A spokesman said the government had no advance knowledge of the attack.

While U.S. officials personally have some sympathy for exiled Cubans, they take the view that such hit-and-run attacks only serve to feed Prime Minister Fidel Castro's claim that he needs Communist arms to build up his defenses.

PT BOAT, CRUISER

Salvat said he and 22 other men ranging in age from 19 to 23 used a PT boat and a 31-foot cruiser in the raid. More than 60 shots were fired at Miramar during the seven-minute attack and a hotel headquarters of Soviet bloc technicians was damaged.

"We did it as Cubans seeking freedom for our homeland," he said. "We did it to show Democratic republics the world over that we mean business."

"I feel that if the Communists in Cuba are entitled to the support of the Soviet Union, the Cuban democratic movement too is entitled to support of the democratic republics of the world."

CUT PHONE SERVICE

In a puzzling aftermath of the raid there was an unexplained interruption Sunday in normal telephone and cable communications between the United States and Cuba.

An American Telephone & Telegraph Co. spokesman said no explanation was offered for the break in communications. "They (the Cubans) just weren't answer-

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

DOLL WAIST. Once upon a time, a mark of beauty was an 18" waistline. And it must have been a hard mark to make, for at the same time a woman was supposed to be otherwise quite plump—both bosom-y and hippy.

In most cases the tiny measurement was achieved by corsets, so heavily boned and tightly laced, they literally squeezed the breath out of a lady. Fainting was epidemic, and quite fashionable.

Well, girls, let's be thankful that the form divine now has more rational proportions. To maintain it we still may have to struggle, but not in the tortuous fashion of our feminine forebears. Simple, easy exercise routines reduce and hold down the modern waistline to an ideal size, even if you're a devotee of the wide-belted doll waist. Just try these routines for a month and see for yourself:

1. (For routines, you need a ruler.) Stand erect with feet about 20 inches apart. Grasp ruler at either end, and extend arms overhead. Bend left knee and, simultaneously, bend in waist to right as far as possible. Swing back to erect position; then bend right knee and swing left. Continue for 20 counts without stopping.

2. Standing erect with feet together, grasp ends of ruler and extend arms forward at shoulder level. Swing arms from side to side, pulling hard on ruler. Thirty times.

BOY CRUSHED BY FALLING BRICK WALL

EASTON, Pa. (AP)—"Don't go in that building," Carl Lutes warned his 15-year-old son, Ronald, Saturday night. "A wall will collapse and somebody is going to get hurt."

A two-story brick wall of the building—an abandoned school 98 years old which was being torn down—collapsed Sunday as several Easton boys, including Ronald, were playing in the basement.

Eugene Guzzo, 15, was crushed to death beneath tons of brick as he walked across a plank spanning a 10-foot deep hole in the basement.

5 OTHERS HURT

Five other boys, including Lutes, suffered cuts, bruises and shock and were treated at Easton Hospital.

Mrs. Florence Wilson, who operates a rooming house nearby, told police she also warned the boys minutes before the accident.

Mrs. Wilson said she saw the boys carry a slab of wainscoting on the school playground into the structure. She said she followed and saw them lay it across two building joists.

"Boys, do you think that's safe?" she asked them. She said she left determined to "tell the parents of one of the boys she recognized. Minutes later she heard the thunder of bricks."

Morse Hits Scranton On Work Law Hedge

HARRISBURG (AP)—Democratic State Chairman Otis B. Morse accuses the Republican gubernatorial candidate of hedging on the question of right-to-work legislation in Pennsylvania.

In a prepared statement, Morse said Sunday that U. S. Rep. William W. Scranton has yet to answer two questions about the issue:

1—Would he veto right-to-work legislation should it pass the General Assembly?

2—Is he opposed to a statewide organization named "Pennsylvanians for the right-to-work?"

HARRISBURG (AP)—President Kennedy and his predecessor, Dwight D. Eisenhower, are going to play a prominent part in the state's Democratic and Republican fund-raising efforts.

The President and the general are scheduled to appear in the state this fall as principal parties to both organizations' contribution drives.

President Kennedy is scheduled to speak at the Democratic $100,000-a-plate dinner Sept. 20 in Harrisburg. This will double as the party's campaign kick-off, as well as a money raiser.

LARGEST IN HISTORY

State Chairman Otis B. Morse expects the gathering to be the largest in Pennsylvania's Democratic history. Kennedy drew the previous high of 10,000 when he appeared here in 1960 as a candidate for the presidency.

Eisenhower, it was reported in the Philadelphia Inquirer, is scheduled to make two dinner appearances next month in an effort to spur Republican contributions.

The report listed the speaking dates as Sept. 25 in Bedford Springs and Sept. 27 at Hershey.

Republican State Chairman George I. Bloom could not confirm the date because, he said, arrangements were being made by the GOP Finance Committee. Bloom acknowledged that such affairs were being planned.

FAMED ARTIC EXPLORER DIES AFTER STROKE

HANOVER, N.H. (AP)—Vilhjalmur Stefansson, 82, one of the last sled dog explorers and also one of the world's foremost arctic scientists and historians, died Sunday.

The explorer, born in Manitoba of Icelandic parents, predicted years ahead of the fact that the North Pole would become a crossroads for air travel between America and Europe. He also foresaw that submarines would travel under the arctic ice pack.

Stefansson, who once thought of making poetry a career, spent 10 winters and 13 summers in the Far North in the 15 years prior to his retirement in 1919 from active exploration. Since 1947 he had been arctic consultant at Dartmouth College and curator of the Stefansson collection of polar literature.

SUFFERED STROKE

Stefansson suffered a stroke a week ago at a dinner for an old friend visiting Dartmouth, Eske Brum, chief of Denmark's Ministry for Greenland.

Between 1913 and 1918 Stefansson commanded a Canadian expedition that spent five years north of the Arctic Circle. On this journey he discovered five islands claimed for Canada. Later the Canadian board on geographical names named an island off the northeast shore of Victoria Island for Stefansson.

In 1941 the 61-year-old bachelor married Evelyn Schwartz Baird, his research assistant. Mrs. Stefansson now is librarian of the Stefansson collection. There are no children.

WOMAN, SON DIE IN CRASH

BROOKVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A Jefferson County woman and her son were killed Saturday in a car bus crash in Clear Creek State Park about 15 miles north of here. Thirty-five children aboard the bus escaped injury.

Mrs. Betty Brown, 30, of Reynoldsville, and her seven-year-old son, Randy, were killed in the collision on Route 949.

Mrs. Brown's daughter, Yvonne, 8, was reported in serious condition in Brookville Hospital.

Donald Brown, 31, the victim's husband and driver of the car, was listed as good in the hospital. Another daughter, Kathy, 9, was not hurt.

The only bus passenger injured was Mrs. Alice Hoffman, 34, of Brookville, R. 3. She was listed in good condition.

State police said brakes of the bus driven by the Rev. Vernon Boyer of Brookville failed as he was traveling downhill and that he was unable to shift gears. The bus went under another hill and collided with the oncoming car on a curve, police said.

The bus was owned by the Assembly of God church.

Offers 250 Acres For Recreation Park

YORK, Pa. (AP)—A retired shoe merchant from York says he has offered the state a 250-acre tract of land valued at $10,000 for development into an outdoor recreation area.

Col. Mahlon N. Haines—who operated a chain of shoe stores before his retirement—said he offered the tract to the State Forests and Waters Department for incorporation in the Samuel E. Lewis State park, approximately 10 miles east of York.

Haines—the colonel is an honorary title—said a department representative promised to inspect the tract sometime next month.

He asked that the area, if accepted, be named "The Col. Mahlon N. Haines Mt. Pisgah Forest." Mt. Pisgah is the name of the rise on which the land is situated.

SEE DROP IN PIKE REVENUE

HARRISBURG (AP)—A study made for the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission predicts the toll road will lose approximately $12.6 million in annual revenue after completion of the toll-free Keystone Shortway in 1970.

However, Franklin V. Summers, turnpike director of operations, said the predicted loss still would leave the commission "with adequate funds to service outstanding debts."

Neither would it hamper normal turnpike operations, he added.

The study, reported Sunday by the Philadelphia Bulletin, was prepared by Wilbur Smith and Associates of New Haven, Conn., at a cost of $20,000.

It estimates that turnpike tolls will reach a peak of $38.6 million by 1970. After the shortway is completed, the study predicts that annual tolls will fall to $44.8 million because of the anticipated diversion of traffic.

It adds that restaurant and service station revenue will decrease from $2.5 million to $1.9 million.

Current toll revenues are estimated at $41.6 million.

School Districts Face Teacher Lack

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—A teacher placement official at Pennsylvania State University reported today that many school districts in the state face a teacher shortage problem this year.

Raymond H. Amalong, head of the university's teacher placement division, said requests for teachers during the first eight months of this year exceeded the total of all last year.

He said he has no applicants seeking positions in many fields. Areas he cited as most critical in shortages were foreign languages, elementary, speech correction, physics, chemistry, mathematics, English, special education and industrial arts.

Amalong cited low salaries as a major factor for the shortage. However, he said he believed many districts are attempting to offer salaries to meet those in competing areas.

He said there are indications that the starting salary average in the state may reach $4,400 or better, although some districts are still recruiting at a beginning salary of $3,800.

CAPITAL IS FLOODED

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—This capital has been cut off from western Nepal by floods, which washed away the only linking bridge over the Trisuli River.

A message reaching here Sunday also said six army men and two civilian officials guarding Nepal's border with Tibet were swept away by floodwaters near Rasuwa.

Lauds Volunteers In Public Work

POLK, Pa. (AP)—Some of the most significant achievements in Pennsylvania's mental health program have been the services performed by volunteers, says Gov. Lawrence.

Lawrence spoke Saturday at the dedication of a master television antenna cable system erected by volunteers at the Polk State School and Hospital in this Venango County town.

"The job of improving governmental service of any kind is made far easier by the enlightened support of the public and Pennsylvania has been extremely fortunate in having a great army of volunteers in mental health, he said.

May Tap 2 Mine Lakes For Supply

SAXTON, Pa. (AP)—Water from two strip mine lakes may be used to help end this small Bedford County town's drought.

Thomas Benner, president of the borough council, said Sunday the fire department has put down about 6,100 feet of hose from the Saxton watershed to the lakes.

Benner said pumping can not begin until approval is given by the Pennsylvania Dept. of Health. Benner said the mine water has been tested and found usable. He said minor treatment will be required to eliminate some acid in the water.

Benner said it would take seven days to fill the town's two reservoirs with water from the lakes. He said one reservoir is dry and the other is nearly empty.
